

I believe it is an outrage that owners of a television station are using the media to promote their political agenda. I think it is a blatant attempt to have the president in their back pocket.